J-Town F.F.A. Joins 4-State Scrap Drive

The Jeffersontown F.F.A. chapter has joined the four state—Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia—scrap metal contest sponsored by the Midwestern Scrap Drive Committee of Cincinnati. A grand prize of $800 will be awarded the champion F.F.A. chapter and also the champion 4-H club in the four-state area. There will be $100 prizes for the champion in each state and also other cash prizes down to tenth place.

"Any farmers, mechanics, or anyone having scrap iron, who would like to help the agriculture boys by giving them the iron, please call any of the agriculture boys who go to Jeffersontown High or their agriculture teacher, Mr. Gamell at Jeffersontown 1101 or Taylor 3073."

Remember: those old stoves, motor blocks, wheels, axles, old pieces of machinery, and tools that could be made into new machinery, tools, washing machines and refrigerators. If the scrap iron could find its way to the scrap yards.

"How about helping a national cause and also the agriculture boys by giving them your small scrap iron or by taking in your own scrap iron? It's a lot of fun and the chapter knows how much you can help!" said Gamell in announcing the contest.

Allen Baugh Wins Again On Achievements

Allen Baugh, member of Valley Chapter F.F.A., has scored again. This time he was awarded the $25 U. S. Savings Bond offered by the Courier Journal-Louisville Times-Radio WLAS contest to determine the Future Farmer with the highest record of achievement. Allen won the achievement award for the North Central District. He has been an outstanding boy leader for the past two years of Vocational Agriculture and has completed.

Another honor that came to Allen was his being selected to represent Kentucky at the Southern States Cooperative exhibition at the University of Virginia, where he, with nine other Future Farmers from Kentucky were entered in the contest. Allen was paid for five days in the Virginia capital.

VALLEY ADULT FARMER CLASSES TO START

About the first of December, the farm shop at Valley High School will be opened for adult farmer classes. Any farmer desiring to enroll for instruction in farm machinery repair, elementary welding, wood-work, etc., is asked to contact Raymond Layne, instructor in Agriculture at the High School. The course has been given twice previously and has met with success each time.

If tallies at the end of the day show that every piece of paper used during the day in the Treasury printing department is accounted for, employees are not permitted to go home until the loss is located.

Parents Show Interest In School Health Examinations

Parents of Louisville and Jefferson County children are rallying behind the new program of school health examinations.

This was revealed today by the Board of Health which show that almost 80 percent of the parents of 430 children examined were present during the first week of the physical check-ups. In 1946, last year of school health examinations before they were dropped due to an insufficient budget, only 10 percent of the parents accompanied their children.

"We are particularly pleased with the splendid cooperation of the parents," Dr. Marjorie Rowntree, head of the Division of School Health which is conducting the program, state, "since we can accomplish the real purpose of the examinations only if parents are aware of physical corrections needed for the children."

Dr. Rowntree again urged parents of children yet to be examined to attend the examinations to assist doctors in the medical history, including childhood illness, symptoms and other information. Invitations are being sent to parents by mail.

In the preliminary statistical report it was shown that 328 of the 430 children examined were accompanied by parents, while 102 were not. In the 321 white and 99 Negro children were included in the program which includes all public, private and

Christmas Seal Sale To Start November 22

Walter Distelhorst, President of the Louisville Tuberculosis Association, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Irvin Abell, Jr., 2350 Speed Avenue, as Christmas Seal Campaign chairman. This is the first time in the history of the Association that a woman has been named to this position.

November 22 is the opening date of the annual campaign which continues through Christmas Day. The funds raised are the sole support of the Louisville Tuberculosis Association's year-round program of free chest x-rays, medical social service to patients with TB, rehabilitation after the patient has been discharged, special Negro projects, and health education for all, to help lessen the suffering and death from this dread disease. Last year 274 persons in Louisville and Jefferson County alone were victims of tuberculosis.

4-H Members Attend County P.T.A. Council

The Jefferson County Council P.T.A. held their November meeting at the Y.M.C.A. with 44 members attending. Prominent speaker had the largest number present.

Richard Van Hoes, director of the Jefferson County Schools, gave a very informative talk on the "County School Curriculum of Tomorrow" after which a period of discussion was held.—Mrs. Thomas Kellens, publicity chairman.

BUCHTEL WOMAN'S CLUB TO MEET NOVEMBER 18

The Buchtel Woman's Club will meet in the recreation room of the Buchtel School, November 18, at 11 a.m. Luncheon will be at 12:15.

The program is in charge of Mrs. William Watson. The subject will be, "International Relations." The speaker will be Mrs. Neime Nokay, a graduate of the University of Istanbul, who will tell something about the women of that country.

A full attendance is requested. The ways and means committee has been engaged in the Grocery Saturday, November 20, proceeds to go for the building of a club house. Articles for Christmas gifts will be on sale.

LAUNDRY SERVICE AVAILABLE AT VALLEY

For the first time this year pick-up and delivery service will be available for laundry at Valley High School. The laundry room and canneries, James Bohannon, an able body, has been engaged to superintend the killing, dressing and cutting of the carcasses. He will be assisted by Tommy Bruce, George Melton and Donald Noe. Persons interested in this service may call either Mr. Bohannon or the canneries.

Cuba produced this year a record crop of sugar, valued at over $6,000,000. Of this the United States has purchased over 4,000,000 tons.

Phone Company May Appeal To Court

Controversy over a requested advance in telephone rental rates, between the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. and public utilities commission, has been probably a temporary close this week. The company's request for higher rates was denied by the Public Service Commission at Frankfort.

A refund on the higher rates, in effect since July 16, will be made to telephone subscribers unless the court upsets the Public Service Commission's decision. The telephone company isn't expected to rest its case as it stands today. Its representatives have said that more money is definitely needed because higher costs have forced its earnings in Kentucky down to 2.9 per cent.

Southern Bell had asked the Commission for a 12 per cent rate increase. The Commission has ordered an extra 2,065,000 a year in revenue. According to company officials, the Lexington office said its earnings to 6.66 per cent.

The entire state, in those areas served by Southern Bell, is affected. The City of Louisville is said to have spent 10,000 to fight the rate increases.

Hikes Fair, Merchants Exhibit November 19-20

On Friday and Saturday evenings, November 19 and 20, from 6 to 10 p.m., the P.T.A. of Hikes Graded School will sponsor a "Hikes Fair." The fair will be held at the school and will display their wares. There will also be movies, fish pond, gift items, home-made cakes, pies, candy and sandwiches.

"Many door prizes will be given away at regular intervals each evening," said the publicity chairman. "Come and spend an enjoyable evening." Proceeds will be used for benefit of the school.

Valley Future Farmers Have Many Projects On

The Valley Future Farmers are busy carrying out their program of work for the 1948-1949. Each school enrolled in Vocational Agriculture has its own farming program on the home farm or works for some farmer or at other related occupation in the community. Certain group activities are carried out in addition to the regular school program.

Soil conservation and water control is a theme in the year's program. More than 50 Future Farmers have been engaged in the soil conservation demonstration recently at Hardinsburg, Ky.

James Bohannon, an able body, has been engaged to superintend the killing, dressing and cutting of the carcasses. He will be assisted by Tommy Bruce, George Melton and Donald Noe. Persons interested in this service may call either Mr. Bohannon or the canneries.

Vocational Advisement New Health Center Is Available To Vets

Veterans Administration today reminded World War II veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky that vocational advisement and guidance is available at 37 centers established by V.A. in cooperation with educational institutions and other agencies.

Advisement and guidance is voluntary for veterans who wish to study or train under the G.I. Bill, but is required for disabled veterans who wish vocational rehabilitation under provisions of Public Law 16.

Purpose of the program is to help veterans explore their interests, needs and abilities, as well as to provide them with information about schools, training and job opportunities.

Veterans guidance centers in this state are located at: Bowling Green, Western Ky. State College; Lexington, Ky. State College; Louisville, 117 West Street and Louisville, 508-16 West Main Street; Louisville, 117 West Street and Louisville, 508-16 West Main Street; Morehead, Morehead State Teachers' College; Murray, Murray State Teachers' College.

Ward Potts Funeral At Hopewell Thursday P.M.

Funeral services were conducted for Ward Potts, 44, at the Hopewell Baptist Church Thursday afternoon by the Rev. Horton, pastor there. Mr. Potts, 44, for several weeks, died at his home on Hopewell Road Tuesday night at 10 o'clock.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Oneda Shields Potts, a daughter, Mrs. Carl MacKeebe and one son, Leslie Potts; mother, Mrs. Lula Potts; and two sisters, Mrs. Carrie Potts and Mrs. Harry Lee Potts.

Interment was made in Hopewell Cemetery.

Food requirements of the Navy in 1941 were 1,000,000,000 (B) pounds; in 1945 they had risen to 5,700,000,000 (B) pounds.

The chapter is now engaged in a rat killing contest. They are making rats scarce in certain neighborhoods. Anyone having rats that they wish killed may call the Future Farmers for service.

A third group activity going at this time is gathering scrap iron in the Midwest Scrap Metal Drive conducted by radio station WLO, Cincinnati.

Still another group activity going is the sale of Christmas cards to raise funds to finance the chapters program of work.

Field trips come in for a proper amount of attention and time. The trip to Hardinsburg, two trips to the Lying-in-Farm to strip sorghum, one trip to W. R. Baker's dairy, one trip to the Bourdon Farm and back Show.

Local Happenings

Mrs. James Berry and children, Violet Mae and David, were week-end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Snider. Miss Violet Mae Berry spent several days this week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Snider.

A Baked Chicken Supper and Social will be held at the school on Saturday, November 13, in the basement of St. Edward's new school. Everybody welcome!

HOMEMAKER CLUBS LYNDON

The Lyndon Homemakers Club met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Jerry McCarthy on LaGrange Road with Mrs. Matt Frank serving as co-hostess. The main lesson of the night was given by Mrs. Rottetier and Mrs. Oliver showing us the importance of having a basic pattern to insure perfect fit in dress making. A consumers information lesson was given by Mrs. Kintner and the landscape lesson given by Mrs. Malkin is always very beneficial as well as interesting.

Our civic project for Christmas this year is to help old people at the neighborhood house, who are often forgotten at Christmas as well as throughout the year.

We were glad to welcome two visitors, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Meisner. We are always entertained nicely at Mrs. McCarthy's beautiful old home for which she has made and refurnished with furnishings.—Mrs. Ernest Boone, publicity chairman.

ROUTT

The Routt Homemakers Club met November 3 at the home of Mrs. Walter Robinson, Fisherville. Mrs. Arch Tennill, president, presiding.

Fourteen members and one visitor were present. Roll call was answered by each member. It was how she celebrated Thanksgiving when a child.

Money was collected for Old Folks and Sunshine Lodge Christmas fund. The group will be brought to next meeting for children at Lodge.

The Thanksgiving supper for homemakers and their families will be at the Masonic Lodge, Saturday evening, November 27. The major lesson, "Basic Patterns," was given by Mrs. Archie Boston and Mrs. Paul LaMaster. Mrs. Boston also discussed the making of book bags. All members were very interested in both lessons which were well taught by the leaders, visitors and the meeting addressed to meet with Mrs. W. E. Carrithers on December 4.—Mrs. J. F. Runyon, publicity chairman.

OKOLONA

The Okolona Homemakers Club will meet Friday, November 12, at 10 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. J. F. Nebelst at Lane.

Mrs. S. P. Nebelst said that Mrs. Ernest L. Bewly will give the major lesson, "Basic Patterns" made of mullin.—Mrs. Chester I. Roby, publicity chairman.

COUNTY UNITS MARCH IN CITY'S CHRISTMAS PARADE

Louisville's big Christmas parade last Monday night attracted many, both young and old, from all over the county, augmenting a Fourth Avenue congestion that was a record breaker and proved to be a traffic problem. Several county organizations participated in the gala event and shone in the spectacular march.

The Jeffersontown High School Band contributed a conspicuous unit in the cavalcade, as did the St. Helens School Band, the Jefferson County Recreation Baton Twirlers and Mill Creek School Band and Bugle Corps.

"SALT OF THE EARTH" AT LUTHERAN CHURCH

Dr. J. E. Stomberger announces that on Sunday evening, November 14, Luther Lutheran Church will show a motion picture, "The Salt of the Earth." It will be shown at 8 o'clock. The public is invited.

Second Screen Tour Lecture Coming Nov. 18

As a part of the "Missionary Advance" being carried across the United States by the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, members of Methodist churches in a wide area around Louisville will gather in the Trinity Methodist Temple, Louisville, on Thursday, November 18, for special denominational meetings with special national standing. Bishop William T. Watkins will preside and speak at the opening session.

The Louisville meeting is one of a series of such gatherings in 32 cities, following the recent assembly of the Foreign Missions Conference when 68 missionary agencies of the United States and the great evangelists of the world, and to raise an estimated $150,000 of additional funds to send their ministerial, educational and medical services and personnel into "the remotest corners of the earth." This promise is to be the greatest enlargement of Protestant foreign missions since their founding more than a century ago.

In connection with this nationwide and united advance, the Methodist and other evangelical churches in Louisville and near-by communities will join in the Foreign Missions Conference International Medical and Social Service in Male Gymnasium, Louisville, on the evening of November 18. The principal speaker will be Dr. John W. Decker, a former missionary to China; and now secretary of the International Missionary Council.

At the Methodist meeting it is expected that large delegations will be present from every church of the denomination in and around Louisville.

The chapter president, Larry Powers, has completed the appointment of all the F.F.A. committees for the coming year. Ernest Scharfenberger was elected chapter treasurer and John Stafford, watch dog, to fill vacancies in the chapter officers. Both Scharfenberger and Stafford were very active in the County and State Fairs and in the F.F.A. District Dairy Show.

J-Town F.F.A. Chapter Completes Organization

The Jeffersontown chapter has completed its organization for the coming year. Ernest Scharfenberger was elected chapter treasurer and John Stafford, watch dog, to fill vacancies in the chapter officers. Both Scharfenberger and Stafford were very active in the County and State Fairs and in the F.F.A. District Dairy Show.

CURRENT EVENTS CLUB

Miss Mary Stockhoff and Mrs. H. H. Stockhoff will be hostesses for the Current Events Club on Friday, November 19. The business meeting is called for 11 a.m. After luncheon Mrs. Walter Diehl will review the second half of Toyne's "Civilization on Trial." The book review will be followed by a round table discussion.

JEFFERSONTOWN COUNCIL 4-H

The Jeffersontown High Point Club met November 9. The business meeting was held with the flag led by Mary Cathryn Abstein. The 4-H pledge was read by Mrs. Abstein. We then checked on the projects that were completed. Then we had a program "What Is the First Money Like," by Dorothy Stallard, "Uses for Money," told by Mrs. A. W. Klusmeyer.

The lunch program was given by Mrs. H. H. Stockhoff. The recreation leader had a game.

The meeting addressed to meet with Mrs. Henry Bruce, December 7.—Mrs. Roy Stout, publicity leader.

NORWOOD

The Norwood Homemakers Club met at the home of Mrs. Fred Latham, LaGrange Road, November 9. Fourteen members were present. A white elephant sale was held. The proceeds will be used by the club for a Christmas sale was had by Mrs. A. J. Dreisbach, publicity chairman.

SMOKE RINGS

By —
Charles Vetterlin

First crack out of the box we can award the HONOR PIPE OF THE WEEK to a small package of dynamite from St. Matthews —

Burt Stevens.

Smoke has been watching the work of this civic-minded gentleman for a long time. His work done for teen agers, his efforts on behalf of a Y.M.C.A. in St. Matthews and his 100 other endeavors for good in the Kwanza Club all add up to making him "Smoke Ring" of The Week.

You can pick up your Smoke Ringer Bob Cipe at the Ringers' office any time you're passing by.

Sorry to miss the dedication of that new St. Matthews Y but your smoke friend must be in Ashland that afternoon, conducting a basketball clinic for the Kentucky High School Athletic Association.

It's going on four years now since Smoke Ring took over the reins of the county recreation program. It's been great work and lots of gratification has come to Ring as he watched a baby pioneer grow into a model of national acclaim.

One Smoke set up a four year plan which is somewhat ahead of schedule right now and indications are that by the end of next summer the plan will be completed — at that time the last column of Smoke Rings may be written as other fields are beckoning — and they are mighty attractive.

Can't help remembering right now that early fight against recreation had to put up to get its roots in the ground. Remember all the opposition it got before people understood it and fell in love with it?

Names of Mr. and Mrs. Milt Frenka, Mrs. Slattery, Anne Krieger, Mrs. A. B. Wigginton and others who fought so valiantly to get recreation rolling keep flashing in view.

Names of new-coming keep carried on to new heights take their places alongside the early pioneers. Some of these names are Nelson Hornback, Fairdale, Bert Willis, Jeffersontown; Maurice Luker, Buechel; Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Archie Hornback out at High View and Jimmie Willis, colored leader at J'own.

There are hundreds of others but space does not permit mention of more at this time — suffice it to say that the crusaders for the Jefferson County Plan of recreation have made their efforts felt around the nation.

Those teen-agers in those clubs of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board, "Screen" — If you missed the Sadie Hawkins Day parties that went on in 13 county teenage clubs this week-end then you missed lives.

You know you've got to give that chap, Oakley Brown of the recreation board, a whole lot of credit — not only is Oakley the strong right arm of the county program, but he also is a church leader, civic leader, "dill" club booster along with a "jillion" other roles in the fire for the good of his fellow man.

In his life-time Smoke has met hundreds of characters — two are out-standing for sincerity of purpose, unselfishness and square dealing — one is Oakley Brown; the other Max Sanders.

The ole briars is about gone out but we'll light up for another session with you fellows at the Y.M.C.A. at Third and Broadway Sunday, November 14 at 2 p.m.

"The Voice of the Community" By Vivian Lucas

Hello out there. I am back in the saddle again. I want to thank everyone for their kind remembrance of me during my illness. Oh boy it is good to be up and at it again. Well folks, in a few days we will be celebrating Thanksgiving. Orell, November 22, we are looking for all communities to participate in that program.

At the council meeting November 1, at Jeffersontown, much enthusiasm was reported from the eastern contest, which was held at Newburg. Mr. Nelson Goodwin, the energetic chairman of Newburg, has another surprise in store for you. A trap shooting contest, which date and place will be given later.

We are sponsoring a Christmas shop in which all communities will benefit. The Christmas gifts will be placed on sale at our Christmas party which will be held at Jeffersontown. The date will be announced later. The gifts will be placed on sale at our communities. The profits from the sale will go back to your local treasury.

Many 4-H Clubbers Enroll in College

A total of 1,431 former 4-H club members now are students at the University of Kentucky. This is 21.2 per cent of the enrollment of undergraduates at the University's campus at Lexington. Of the 899 students in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, 51.4 per cent have been members of 4-H clubs.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman at Buechel road, near the new school, will be completed. Fall hunting trips were being planned. Edward Hikes, of Louisville, but formerly of Buechel, surprised friends by "going to Jeffersonville and marrying Miss Gertrude Helm. Tuesday, November 10."

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gordon were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Clure at Middletown. Cards were out announcing the wedding of Miss Edna May Gwatney and Mr. Joseph Henry Settle, to take place at the Presbyterian Church, Anchorage, November 18, a trip through the South and to Cuba will follow the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. White were to celebrate their tenth wedding anniversary, Monday evening, November 16, 1948. Improvement of the community schools and school buildings was discussed by Dr. S. D. Weathers, of Middletown.

Elvira Snyder Miller in her "Tattler" column in The Jeffersonian breaks news with this seasonal observation: "Now nature flirts with all the seasons, but she does so cannot trust her. And so folks wear, for obvious reasons, A fur cap with a linen duster." While the blitheness in life, she adds, "is the speech and sweet laughter of a little child," when Spring winds blow the saddest thing in life, when the days of the year are told, "is the lonely age, and the sad old."

Moving is the order of the day at St. Matthews. Everyone is trying to get into winter quarters more comfortably. Mrs. Green and Mr. Fiegel have returned from their visit in the South — the Land of the Flowers with glowing descriptions, the many adventures over our own shivering Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Kennerly and son, of Louisville, were Halcyon week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schneider and children.

Mr. and Mrs. William Easley and children spent the day Saturday, October 30, with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baile and family. They helped on our building which is nearing completion.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Hornbeck has been laid up for several days with a sprained ankle.

Mrs. Freda Hall gave a get-together party Saturday night for Miss Donna Morgan and Delia Shaffer, who were home from college for the week-end. Those present were Mickey Young, Garnett Baile, Wanda Roman, Bobby Chambers, Donna Morgan, D. A. Smith, Deloris Shaffer, Harvey Helm, Freda Hall, Albert Alliger, Elizabeth Aldridge and Alice Ann Kasey. All had a wonderful time.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, Joyce Gladys Perry were after church dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hermann and Mrs. Deloris Hoby, of Louisville. Afternoon callers in this same home were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Shipp, Mr. and Mrs. Hendrick Hayes, of Buechel, and Mrs. W. L. Neshmitt, of Fern Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baile made brief calls Sunday afternoon on Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Walden Roberts.

Mrs. Sada Young, of Louisville, was week-end guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Annie Young, and attended services at High View both morning and night.

Carolyne Baile was Sunday afternoon guest of Shirley Hartley. Mr. and Mrs. Marv Higgs are at a home on Waterson Trail South.

Mr. and Mrs. William Youm were Saturday guests of his grandson, Mr. William Downing and family.

We deplore the serious operation of Mrs. Smith Hays, Buechel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McCullough. We are hoping when they hear from the laboratory test it will be favorable.

Oak Grove News By Mrs. M. S. Graham.

Wednesday, November 3, was a red letter day at our house. It happened to be our seventy-fifth birthday. (Now we have told it). There is a saying that a woman who will tell her age will tell her fortune, however, we console ourselves with the thought that old age is honorable. He that as it may, we indeed had a delightful surprise when several of our dear friends came trooping laden with packages which proved to be a complete dinner; also greeting cards and gifts. Also had many lovely cards through the mail. When the table was spread it had quite a festive appearance, what with heaped up dishes of fried chicken, different kinds of salads, vegetables, pumpkin pie, angel food and caramel cake and ice cream. It was indeed fit for a king. Woods fall us to express our appreciation, but will say we love each one of you for your thoughtfulness. Those to help celebrate were Mrs. John Wise, Mrs. Carrie B. Smith, Mrs. Oda Farmer, Mrs. Tom Parris, Mrs. Vernon Smith, Mrs. George Workman, Mrs. Rudolph Kuntz and Martha Alice. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Seeger and baby were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John Wise.

Mrs. Goldie Reganauer and son, Norman Reganauer, attended a bridal shower Sunday afternoon in honor of the coming marriage of Miss Mary King, St. Helens.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Farmer, of Louisville, were guests of his mother, Mrs. Oda Farmer, Sunday.

Mrs. Carrie Belle Smith and Mr. Harlan Smith were delightfully entertained at dinner Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Steele.

We are sorry to report Mrs. Robert Covington quite ill. We hope she will soon be on the road to recovery.

Mrs. James Neider were dinner guests of his mother, Mrs. Bettie Neider, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Farmer, Sunday.

High View News By Mrs. Joe Baile

Well, sister correspondents, I am a little late but I can still tell you how very glad I was to have met with you at our school and what a grand and glorious time we had together. Those who were unable to attend will never know what they missed, and I too hope we will meet again soon. I sure enjoyed reading each writer's appreciation notes. Thanks to our dear principal, Mrs. Lahr, and the P.T.A. for the lovely refreshments.

The meeting of the High View Improvement Club was held at the school Friday night, October 3, with a very few members present due to the terribly rainy night. Mr. Lane gave a fine report of the club's standing with the county recreation board and

Bardstown Road News By Mrs. F. E. Frederick

Mr. Bayne called my regular appointment at Newburg Christian Church on Sunday afternoon, bringing an inspirational message to the congregation, taking his message from Luke 3. Sixty were present in Sunday School and mention was made that $30 was sent to the Orphans Home. Bro. Robert Hays, of Buechel, was the organist at the evening service and 38 were present. A young man from Bardstown, who plays piano and Mrs. Shobe the organ, resulting in beautiful music and exceptionally good singing. Everybody is invited to these meetings. Sunday mornings at 10 o'clock and evenings at 7:45.

Mrs. Shobe will be undertaking a major operation at the Baptist Hospital on Tuesday is getting along fine, we are happy to report.

Mrs. Thomas Yann on Richmond Avenue entertained dinner for her cousins on Tuesday and the following were present: Mrs. H. Suhr, Mrs. J. Ackerman, Mrs. H. McGinnis, Mrs. P. Marker, Mrs. F. Bauer, Mrs. F. Probeck, Mrs. W. Light, Mrs. S. Delaworth, Mrs. E. Tenn, Mrs. G. Wilhelm, Mrs. H. Smyser, Mr. J. Diemer, Mr. H. Hook, Mr. John Diemer, Mrs. Yan's father, is past 80 and Mr. Louis Hooch, her uncle, is in his eighties, were among those present and enjoyed the day as much as the younger folks. A most delightful day was spent in this lovely home.

Dearest sympathy is extended to Mr. Leslie P. Jones in the sudden death of his brother, Mr. Otto Jones, 61, on Sunday morning in Lexington. He held the position of Assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction and other important positions during his life-time. He was a native of Mayfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thomas spent the week-end near Bardstown visiting relatives.

Mrs. Sterling Yeager, of Louisville, entertained for Mr. Hamlet Stivers, of Texas, and Mr. Louis Stivers, of California, on Wednesday evening. They have returned to their homes after a delightful stay of several weeks among relatives here.

Mrs. Thomas King has returned home after visiting relatives at Fern Creek and Buechel.

Fairbanks-Morse HAMMERMILLS

For Grinding Your Own Grain

TRACTOR-MATCHED DESIGNED TO INCREASE OPERATING EFFICIENCY

LOW-COST FEED GRINDING

You can grind any grain or roughage fast with low power cost with a Fairbanks-Morse Hammer Mill.

Fairbanks-Morse Hammer Mills are fast, because they have larger breaker plates and large screen area. Most of the feed is ground the first time around, and so passes out of the mill sooner.

Fairbanks-Morse Hammer Mills are built to match your tractor. A smaller mill would waste tractor fuel. A larger mill would be under-powered, giving you less capacity than you paid for.

CHEAPER GRAIN COULD MEAN BETTER FEEDING
In view of lower feed costs it should be profitable to feed a pound of grain for each three or four pounds of milk, say dairy specialists at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. Or feed a pound of grain for each two pounds of milk produced over and above 10 pounds of milk for Jerseys or Guernseys and 15 pounds of milk for other breeds. It is further suggested that it should be profitable to feed sufficient grain to dry cows and heifers to get them in good flesh before calving.

What Size Sweet Potatoes Does The Consumer Buy?

This question is being answered by a consumer preference study being conducted in five large Louisville stores, beginning Monday, November 8, and closing Saturday, November 20.

In each of these five stores selected for this study in five representative sections of the city and St. Matthews, three grades or sizes of sweet potatoes are being exhibited for the housewife to select from. In one bin or exhibit will be found large potatoes. In a second bin will be found U. S. No. 1 or medium size potatoes. In the third bin will be a good grade of small potatoes.

Courteous interviewers will be found at each of these five stores. These interviewers, who know the problems of cooking and housekeeping, will discuss with the purchasers who select large, medium or small potatoes. The purpose of this study, which is being conducted through the cooperation of the Farm Markets Department of the University of Kentucky, is not to develop a market for any particular size or variety of sweet potato, but to determine the grade or size of potatoes that will sell best and the difference in price necessary to sell the large and small potatoes as compared to the medium size potatoes.

Dr. C. D. Phillips of the Farm Markets Department of the University of Kentucky is cooperating with the Jefferson County Agricultural Extension Department in conducting this study. Sweet potato growers cooperating in this study are, Carl Kramer, Albert and William Schneider, James F. Finn and J. W. Fegubush. Congratulations, men, for your fine cooperation. It is this type of cooperation that will benefit all Jefferson County vegetable growers.

Why should we produce nice farm crops and then rush them to market "field run" without proper grading or preparation for market? It cost lots of money to grow good crops, so why not grow what the consumer wants because he certainly knows what he will buy.

Were you ready for the rain? What nice rains we have had in the last week. For several days the rains came in very light but continued showers with every drop soaking into the soil.

Fortunately the heavy rain did not fall until the soil was pretty well soaked. This previous soaking prevented much heavy washing. The cover crops planted ahead of the rain are really popping out of the ground now and should offer a lot of protection to the soil yet before "Old Man Winter" gets too rough. It is late now to plant cover crops but not too late to still help a lot. Plant tree and good thick cut. Cover slightly with disc, harrow or drill, but do it now. Don't let that field lay exposed all winter with no protection against erosion and loss of plant food both above and below the surface.

Will Vaccination Control Bong's Disease?

1. The evidence is that vaccination alone is not sufficient. Other means are necessary, such as sanitation, segregation, and elimination of diseased animals.

2. Yes, laying hens should be fed according to production. The Ralston Purina Company's Research Farm recommends feeding according to the following table:

When Eggs	Amount of Feed	Production Is Required Daily
80%	28 to 32 lbs.	per 100 hens
60%	26 to 28 lbs.	per 100 hens

What do you think of first—when you make up your food shopping list, that is, do you want when you get to the grocery and see what is there, or do you plan ahead? It has been proven that the wise food shopper makes her plans ahead keeping in mind the foods that are in season and in plentiful supply. But there is something else too to think about. Of course you all consider the food habits and the likes and dislikes of the family, but in considering these, it is wise to think of two most important factors—the nutritional needs and the economic limitations of the family purse. Make the meals attractive and interesting, but make them nutritionally adequate and at the same time not so expensive they prove to be overbalancing on the food budget. Experience and study will help make the job easier, so don't become discouraged.

Good items in meat remain at pork buty. Prices on all cuts of fresh pork continue to become more reasonable so that families may once again consider them in meal planning. Good, too, to look forward perhaps to making use of pork for company meals come Thanksgiving time. Not much change as yet in beef prices, though there is being seen a slow decline as adjusters must be made when the demand shifts to other items. Consider your best beef buys in front quarters cuts, stew and pot roast cuts.

Will Vaccination Control Bong's Disease?

1. The evidence is that vaccination alone is not sufficient. Other means are necessary, such as sanitation, segregation, and elimination of diseased animals.

2. Yes, laying hens should be fed according to production. The Ralston Purina Company's Research Farm recommends feeding according to the following table:

When Eggs	Amount of Feed	Production Is Required Daily
80%	28 to 32 lbs.	per 100 hens
60%	26 to 28 lbs.	per 100 hens

What do you think of first—when you make up your food shopping list, that is, do you want when you get to the grocery and see what is there, or do you plan ahead? It has been proven that the wise food shopper makes her plans ahead keeping in mind the foods that are in season and in plentiful supply. But there is something else too to think about. Of course you all consider the food habits and the likes and dislikes of the family, but in considering these, it is wise to think of two most important factors—the nutritional needs and the economic limitations of the family purse. Make the meals attractive and interesting, but make them nutritionally adequate and at the same time not so expensive they prove to be overbalancing on the food budget. Experience and study will help make the job easier, so don't become discouraged.

Good items in meat remain at pork buty. Prices on all cuts of fresh pork continue to become more reasonable so that families may once again consider them in meal planning. Good, too, to look forward perhaps to making use of pork for company meals come Thanksgiving time. Not much change as yet in beef prices, though there is being seen a slow decline as adjusters must be made when the demand shifts to other items. Consider your best beef buys in front quarters cuts, stew and pot roast cuts.

Give Tulips Time to Grow
For Flowers This Winter

Tulips and daffodils can be flowered in the home when planted in pots, in what the florists call "forced" soil. Two parts of your best top garden soil, one part of peat moss, and one part of a 16-inch mesh screen.

Place each bulb in this soil to half an inch below the surface. Now it is necessary to allow the bulb to make roots, and for this purpose the pot must be placed in a dark and cool place, where it cannot freeze or dry out too much. A cold frame, where it can be covered with leaves, ashes or sand, will do.

Moss placed in this storage the pot should be thoroughly soaked, and no further watering should be necessary. If stored in an indoor cellar or cellar the soil should be prevented from drying out excessively. Root action will follow and root growth begins the pot may be brought indoors or kept in the storage place and so retarded until wanted.

After being brought indoors the pot must be given the light possible and kept in a temperature which averages 60 degrees until the leaves and roots are well formed. After buds are formed a temperature of 70 degrees will bring out the flowers, and if haste is needed a higher temperature will produce it.

Early Tulips, such as Keizerskroon, are best for indoor flowers. Mr. Chester Pfau entertained, with a weiner and marshmallow roast Friday of last week.

Mr. W. A. Bentfield, Jr. who is at the Baptist Hospital continues quite ill.

Mr. Dennis Robertson, who helped fight a fire one day last week is in Nichols Hospital and will be for two months. I hope for him a speedy recovery.

Mr. J. T. Johnson and sister called on an old friend one day last week, Miss Rose Krahmer, of 638 Baxter Avenue, Louisville.

GUSS AGAIN, IT'S NOT A FOOTBALL STADIUM

A farmer harvesting his oat crop, leaves an unusual seed in design around an isolated breeding plot of D.K. 10 Hybrid seed corn in DeKalb County, Illinois. The heavy white lines are oat straw left in swaths by the combine. The dark green recesses in the center, is a field of oat plants being raised for future hybrid seed production. Inherited corn characteristics, raised from tassels to ears by dust-like pollen grains. The pure-bred, parent corn must be kept pure or undesirable offspring may be produced. To make certain these hybrid corn parents stay pure, they are grown in isolated fields like this one, safe from contamination by stray pollen from neighboring cornfields.
